What's new in Bahamut2-dragon's Bride:

in edition of ITD, including some special exclusive looks...

There's no denying that a post-apocalyptic civilization would have more in common with Star Trek and The Road than Fight Club and Scarface. However that in no way hinders the buzz that's surrounding the world's first "frank movie" about a dystopian future that weaved inspiration from both franchises. IT DIE! is becoming a brand that will never be forgotten by either The Internet or Darkest Timeline. In it's first official trailer The Upstarts plead for you to stay and die, urging you to join the cause, all the while telling you they'll be back for you. You might just consider sacrificing your life to stay alive, and hope to atone for your sins. "After learning that there was no cure for Ebola, a group of bio-terrorism agents embark on a viral escape." When an Ebola virus escapes scientists test out their new serum but it's not working. Two special agents, specialize in hunting down virulent viruses, are sent to Florida to apprehend any Ebola virus infection. During their first night there, a mysterious creepy figure makes a surprise attack on the house. What is he trying to get? Who is he trying to kill? Only a special agent could figure it out. S.H.I.E.L.D. out of action (Item #9 in the description) forces the agents on a wild goose chase across the country to Alaska. A power room has been breached, and they're trapped in it. In the moment they're in, the door opens to the hallway, and the door automatically closes. If they don't make their way out fast, it's lights out for their batteries. "Rescue special forces deal with a disgruntled employee and a swarm of hostile bees." A whole swarm of bees starts to attack a group of rescue special forces as they're posing for a photo op. One swarm nests in an old flooded mine shaft, and they can't get out. The rescue team has to deal with a group of bees that's determined to kill them all. It is your worst nightmare, now it's your worst nightmare. The closest thing to hell, that is also the closest thing to heaven. The only way to make sure that you'

__ Beautiful puzzle game designed by Fisticuffs Games. "Can you control the dots? Do you have what it takes to beat the game?" Controls: WASD to move and mouse to aim lasers, wide, bomb and chain. Hold R for chain. F4 for pause. This is a puzzle game, played through a series of unique puzzles. The objective of the game is to destroy each Dot you encounter, until you manage to move a brick that corresponds to the number of Dots you have destroyed. Each Brick represents a Dot; the dots turn red as they're destroyed. After a short tutorial, the game begins. You will be given a colour. Your goal is to find a brick that represents that colour. A bunch of Dots will then appear on the screen, and you will be tasked to destroy each. You will be given a weapon, and each Dot will have a number representing the time left before it's destroyed. The Dots appear in random locations; they can be on the ground or even above your head. The colours you get don't always match the colour of the Dot, but you will have to destroy ALL the Dots of a single colour to progress to the next level. Since it was designed for Android, there's always an error that can be solved. And when that happens, the game will ask you if you'd like to click an error log link, and print out a couple of hundred Error Logs. If you like to play with friends, you can co-op. That way, two people can play together and benefit from the experience. It's especially useful when playing the game in handheld mode. This game requires 100% correct inputs and actions, and it is a challenging game of high difficulty. NEW Version 2.1: [New Features] 12+ New Artworks added [Glitches] 12+ Many Bugs fixed After a Year without updating this game, the only thing to do is to fix things that can break.
