■ Story In the Lands Between, there are five races: Humans, Elves, Elden, Drones, and Lizardfolk, and each race has different structures in terms of social and living environments. (The key terms and the names of the races are in Japanese.) Each one has their own culture, culture that evolves over time according to their culture and values. They also have their own philosophy and valor, and some people are more willing to transform into change and conquer the world while other people are weaker in wanting to conquer the world. Furthermore, there are five warlords who ruled over the various regions at the time in their respective ages. These five warlords fought against each other and divided the Lands Between, and some parties founded countries. It is this divide that established the final state of the Lands Between.

Short- and long-term variations in the inflammatory response induced by glucocorticoids in normal human lymphocytes. We have investigated the effects of glucocorticoids on inflammatory responses in normal human cells. Lymphocytes were incubated in the presence of 1.0 or 10^{-8} M prednisolone in order to monitor the modifying effects of the drug on the expression of activation-related and differentiation-specific antigens. Glucocorticoids caused only slight and transient changes in the respective cell surface markers. However, glucocorticoids modulated several cellular functions, especially those related to antigen-induced responses. Thus, suppressive effects of prednisolone on the proliferative responses of cells to the antigens tested were detected, as well as an increased release of IL-2 induced by the mitogen Concanavalin A. The possible significance of this effect of glucocorticoids is discussed. Highly Polarized-Type Electron and Hole Transport Layer Containing the Triphenylene-Based Viologen at the Perovskite/Organic Solar Cell Interface Layer. A novel highly polarized-type electron- and hole-transport layer was designed using the triphenylene-based viologen. The counter anions of the oligo(phenylene ethynylene) derivative, 7,7-(3,6-bis(diphenylamino)-9H-carbazol-9-yl)-3,3',5,5'-tetramethyl-9,9'-spirobi[7H-isobenzofuranmethane] (CV101-NMe₂), was replaced by alkali metal ions to make changes in the distance between the hole- and electron-transport layers. The thickness of the CV101-NMe₂ single layer in its solid state was measured to be 23.3 nm, and the thickness was thick enough to obtain polarization as the interfacial layer at the perovskite/organic solar cell interface. Circular dichroism experiments clearly demonstrated that this layer was the π -conjugated type rather than the π - π^* -type.

The hole- and electron-transport layers with electron-donating or electron-accepting properties were created by the same method. The utilization efficiency of
