HACK Positive Grid BIAS AMP 2 R2R (PC)

I'm using cdmpro from Audinate for rendering. I'm able to hear the low end frequencies until the signal hits a particular frequency, say, 10.20khz. This frequency is around the 15hz limit of cdmpro, so my question is: What settings should I be using for cdmpro to be able to fix the problem without making it sound artificial, like it is doing. A: I would expect that the problem would go away by reducing the low-frequency content of the instruments. The 15 Hz lower limit of the audio jack plug on my adapter is on the low end of what I can hear. So the only way I can imagine getting rid of the difference is by turning the volume down for the instrument slightly. ... manager of the Central and Eastern European zone of the International Fund for Agricultural Development said the region was in transition.
