The Windows 10 Sidebar is a strong collaboration and collaboration tool for the Windows 10 Operating System that can add a lot of value to your windows 10 experience. Features: Synchronization The sidebar doesn't only sync but it also synchronizes across all your devices. Unlike the windows 8 sidebar which just synchronized with the lock screen. You can make sure everything is synced to your profile. The software itself syncs everything in the sidebar itself. It also works with the Edge browser. Sidebar Items

One thing about windows 10 is its sidebar. Like windows 8 before it. You can add widgets like bookmarks and to your web browser. Some of them are useful and some don't. You can add your facebook, reddit, and twitter pages to the sidebar with WIFI enabled.

Mobile You can also add or remove items from your sidebar to your mobile devices with WIFI enabled. Your mobile devices can see the side bar on any computer with WIFI enabled. Search You can search items in the sidebar and add them to your mobile devices. This way you can add or remove items directly to your mobile devices with out touching a computer. Everything is searchable Connection problem The sidebar allows you to view all your devices without connection problem. If you mess up with devices you can fix it. File You can view all your files using the sidebar. The files are both the windows files and the apps in windows 10. You can read, open, copy and paste files. Applications You can add both your apps and games to the sidebar with WIFI enabled.

The sidebar can act as a launcher for the application. Conclusion The Sidebar you get with windows 10 is something original and not a feature of its predecessor. This “one time use” gadget allows you to get the best out of your devices without really having to touch them. With a feature to sync, you can sync the sidebar on all your devices at once. The sidebar is not something you actually use often. Like the windows 7 sidebar this sidebar is something you have to try out to really see its usage. If you really love it, you might want to download the Windows 10 app for it.--TEST-- Test gmdate() function : usage variations - Acceptable formats --FILE--
