Autodesk - Outsource Software - Productivity Manager Win Xforce Key Generator; Keygen 2018 Crack & Serial Download Free.Q: HTML: Why won't `style` tag affect second element? I'm a beginner. I'm reading through the "Building a Website" book on HTML, and I am stuck on something. I must be doing something wrong, but I don't know what. The text below is what I want to do, but it won't work. The red background is showing up, but the black won't. `h1 { color: black; }` This is a test paragraph I tried changing the order of the tags, different class names, and many other things. I'm probably missing something silly. It's been a few years since I took a basic HTML course, and I can't remember enough to know what I'm doing wrong. A: You are mixing XHTML (which your example is) and HTML (which is your actual question). The is part of an XHTML document, but the content of the element is part of a regular HTML document. You can mix the two, but you need to pick one or the other. Examples of mixing the two are: `Mixing HTML and XHTML body { background-color: lime; } div#mydiv { border: 1px solid black; }` 0cc13bf012
