Waifu Warfare is a casual combat game with waifu characters, that was developed by a team of professionals and with lots of love and many ideas from the dev team behind Discord Confidential. What is meant by casual combat? Our mission was to bring a fun experience where the main focus is to find a balance between different aspects of a game: fun, pleasure, fair competition, and strategic aspects. We tried to keep the experience playful and avoid a complicated gameplay that may make it less accessible for everyone. Now let's have a deep dive about the story and the gameplay.

Story
The story of the game is about a grand party named Waifu Warriors, where several young men who would eventually become the best waifu in the region have been selected for a 5-year competition, where they compete against each other in order to defeat their opponent in the final battle and win the maximum prize money in the world. One of them will win the title of "Main Waifu" and $500,000.

The story is actually split in 3 acts, and each act has its own challenges that players will have to complete in order to get the best possible result.

Gameplay
After the introduction, players are introduced to the main character named "Miki", the main heroine. The protagonist will advance in the story through various locations and events on his way to win the war, he will also fight other Waifu Warriors and, through the completion of different missions, he will be able to improve his waifu skills, get new waifus, enhance his waifu ability, and upgrade his waifu equipment. There are, however, two other main characters that are the other waifu warriors that players are playing against: Da-man and Chikan. Da-man is a hot waifu who is actually the antagonist of the game, he represents the most popular type of waifu in the game, the "battle-type waifu". Also, she is among the strongest female warriors of the game, usually placing first when it comes to the battles with the other female waifus. Chikan is a cute waifu who represents the "senpai girl" type of waifu, she will act more like a friend to the player, sometimes even making jokes. Chikan's strength is quite low when compared to Da-man's, but she still has her few special abilities.

Gameplay
A few aspects of the game are

Notes Bulkheads, Bulkhead Notes By any name, these collections of papers date back to the works on the tunnel and were published during the construction period. CLOSING THE DUMBO TUNNEL, 1962 ATP SOUNDS OF DUMBO TUNNEL, 1964 BULKHEAD ANNOTATIONS, 1967-68 FREEDOM AND FACT, 1969 AS A TUNNEL MAKES HEADWAY, 1971 PRINCIPLES OF TUNNEL ARCHITECTURE, 1971 "The tunnel was designed to carry almost 100 years of traffic in the next 35... yet virtually no one has ever come to visit it... The right time would be now"--The author. As the elevated highway tunnel line nears completion, the headaches associated with the building of a long piece of vehicular transport infrastructure begin and the site's historic character increasingly takes a back seat. The problem is not attributable to lessened historic interest alone, but is due to its inherent nature. What the tunnel, remarkably, is, is not what it appears to be, an ancient clamshell cutting through New York City's streets and its inhabitants as it was built. It is not even what it is today, a passageway for vehicular traffic serving as an above-ground "walkway" for neighborhood residents. It is not anything any of its architects ever envisioned. It is simply what it is and, because of this, is the only kind of thing it can ever be. The history of this anomaly began in the early 1800s when canal engineers laid out a route in Central Park for a proposed channel connecting the Hudson River to the East River. After about 18 months of work, union miners, staking new claims nearby, found that the rock formation along the route, by far the largest that they ever encountered, was a true buried megalith, offering a formidable obstacle, unlike the plentiful clay soil that was everywhere else in the area. The General Triumvirate, as this plan was called, had to put the canal on hold. However, in 1822, in an effort to put the canal back on track, they contracted a tunnelling expert in Zurich, Anton Duterini, to re-create the canal for the second time, in a
