How to make social media work for you and your business 17 November 2018 Social media has been the main driver of online marketing for over a decade. It was a revolutionary invention that became affordable to millions of people in the last decade. It has been the most important tool of marketers on the internet since then. As a marketer, you probably have hundreds of social media accounts, and are very active on these. Do you use them effectively? The right place, the right time, and the right message get you results? It seems that the more you use social media, the less you get, the more you tweet and the less social media works for you. The good news is that there is a way to make it work for your business. This is possible if you understand a few things, and keep these in mind. 1. Understand the rules There are rules to follow for marketing on social media. Unrealistic and spammy posts can spoil your brand. It may actually be enough to lose all followers. Do not post anything provocative or controversial. This will not help you, or the other person. Do not engage with spammers. Do not engage with people who send you direct messages. If you do not know the person, he or she may be a spammer.
